QUICK FACTS

2018-2019

North Dakota State College of Science (NDSCS) is a public, two-year institution, established in 1903, the nation's second oldest two-year college. The main residential campus is located in Wahpeton, N.D. and a commuter location (NDSCS-Fargo) is located in Fargo, N.D.

NDSCS offers degrees, certificates and diplomas in traditional career and technical studies as well as the liberal arts. The College also provides a variety of distance education classes—for credit and non-credit, workforce training and online courses. NDSCS offers a complete collegiate experience including academics, residence halls and a vibrant campus life with student clubs and organizations, fine arts and athletics.
